

Poland — “Our Father Walked In”

“A Heavenly Father In A Fatherless Generation”

JAMES 1:27. Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

Fatherless-- *comfortless, bereft (of a father, of parents):
of those bereft of a teacher, guide, guardian; orphaned*

JOHN 14:6-9;

6 Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

7 If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8 Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.

9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?

Sufficeth-- be content, be sufficient, to be enough, suffice, to be possessed of unfailling strength; to be strong, to be satisfied, to be contented.

Father-- generator or male ancestor, natural fathers, the founder of a race or tribe, progenitor of a people, forefather: so Abraham is called, Jacob and David; fathers i.e. ancestors, forefathers, founders of a race

- one advanced in years, a senior, the authors of a family or society of persons animated by the same spirit as himself; one who has infused his own spirit into others, who actuates and governs their minds
- one who stands in a father's place and looks after another in a paternal way
- a title of honour; teachers, as those to whom pupils trace back the knowledge and training they have received; Men, who by virtue of the wisdom and experience in which they excelled, to take charge of the interests of others

• God is called the Father

- a) of the stars, the heavenly luminaries, because he is their creator, upholder, ruler
- b) of all rational and intelligent beings, whether angels or men, because he is their creator, preserver, guardian and protector; of spiritual beings and of all men
- c) of Christians, as those who through Christ have been exalted to a specially close and intimate relationship with God, and who no longer dread him as a stern judge of sinners, but revere him as their reconciled and loving Father
- d) Jesus Christ, as one whom God has united to himself in the closest bond of love and intimacy, made acquainted with his purposes, appointed to explain and carry out among men the plan of salvation, and made to share also in his own divine nature; by Jesus Christ himself; by the apostles.

108 And that's what we ought to do today, friend. We got to take the whole Word of God, 'cause we're going to need It. We got to use every Word that's in There. It's THUS SAITH THE LORD, and we've got to use the full Gospel, all of It. Now, when God had fortified His Church, He fortified It with the best thing that He could find, because it's His Own children. And He fortified the Church by the Word, His Own Word. Just ask them to believe His Word, that's all there was.

109 And Satan, by his wisdom, caused Eve to break down that barrier, just in one place. Satan admitted every bit of the Word was right, but said, "Surely..." That's all he had to know. "Surely you won't die." Now, that was the loophole. He got Eve from behind that Word, with one little doubt.

110 That's exactly where he gets the church today, the same thing. Just that one little doubt brings you on this side. And now there's no way to ever try to think that God will ever spare you through belonging to a church, belonging to an organization, or a group, or whatever it is, or any sensation.

111 You've got to believe His Word and act upon the same. Right. There's... That's the only way. That's God's program at the beginning. That's God's program down through the life. That's God's program now, is, the Church must stay behind the Word. That's the only way that he, you can be safe.

"You Must find the CAUSE, BEFORE you can apply the Remedy" !!

154. Here not long ago I saw the vision of this young woman dying, that they said that committed suicide. It's been about a year ago. I forget... She was some kind of a girl that was a very popular woman. And I was up in the mountains. I saw her die. And they told me, said... He told me, said, "Now, she... You can say it's four o'clock. It's just a few seconds before four." And said, "They'll say she committed suicide, but she died with a heart attack." What is that woman's name? She just... A young blond-headed woman, Marilyn Monroe. That was it. She, she died, and she did not commit suicide.

155. I felt sorry for the girl. She always seemed to be kind of a woman, weary, she needed something. Wish I could have got to the child. She needed Christ. She might have went to some cold, formal church. But she needed a real case of salvation, with something in her heart, to give that assurance. Her father, she never seen him. Her mother was in the insane institution. It was all on the girl's mind. She needed Christ. And then, in that, we know that.*

18 Shocking Children and Divorce Statistics

Children and Divorce Statistics

1. Half of all American children will witness the breakup of a parent's marriage. Of these, close to half will also see the breakup of a parent's second marriage."

(Furstenberg, Peterson, Nord, and Zill, "Life Course")

2. Among the millions of children who have seen their parents divorce, one of every 10 will also live through three or more parental marriage breakups. (The Abolition of Marriage, Gallagher)

3. Forty percent of children growing up in America today are being raised without their fathers. (Wade, Horn and Busy, "Fathers, Marriage and Welfare Reform" Hudson Institute Executive Briefing, 1997)

4. Of all children born to married parents this year, fifty percent will experience the divorce of their parents before they reach their 18th birthday. (Fagan, Fitzgerald, Rector, "The Effects of Divorce On America)

The EMOTIONALLY Damaging Children and Divorce Statistics

5. Studies in the early 1980's showed that children in repeat divorces earned lower grades and their peers rated them as less pleasant to be around. (Andrew J. Cherlin, Marriage, Divorce, Remarriage -Harvard University Press 1981)

6. Teenagers in single-parent families and in blended families are three times more likely to need psychological help within a given year. (Peter Hill "Recent Advances in Selected Aspects of Adolescent Development" Journal of Child Psychology and Psychiatry 1993)

7. Compared to children from homes disrupted by death, children from divorced homes have more psychological problems. (Robert E. Emery, Marriage, Divorce and Children's Adjustment" Sage Publications, 1988)

These statistics about children and divorce are pretty shocking, aren't they?

The DEATH of a Parent is LESS Devastating to a Child than Divorce. (Even I wouldn't believe this if I didn't see the statistic myself.)

The PHYSICALLY Damaging Children and Divorce

8. Children of divorce are at a greater risk to experience injury, asthma, headaches and speech defects than children whose parents have remained married. (Dawson, "Family Structure and Children's Health and Well Being" National Health Interview Survey on Child Health, Journal of Marriage and the Family)

9. Following divorce, children are fifty percent more likely to develop health problems than two parent families. (Angel, Worobey, "Single Motherhood and Children's Health")

10. Children living with both biological parents are 20 to 35 percent more physically healthy than children from broken homes. (Dawson, "Family Structure and Children's Health and Well-being" Journal of Marriage and the Family)

11. Most victims of child molestation come from single-parent households or are the children of drug ring members. (Los Angeles Times 16 September 1985 The Garbage Generation)

12. A Child in a female-headed home is 10 times more likely to be beaten or murdered. (The Legal Beagle, July 1984, from "The Garbage Generation")

This is what I mean when I said "these statistics on divorce and children could save a child's life someday." Did you read #12? A child raised by his/her mother is 10 times more likely to be beaten or murdered.

The Long Term Effects of Divorce On Children

13. A study of children six years after a parental marriage breakup revealed that even after all that time, these children tended to be "lonely, unhappy, anxious and insecure.

(Wallerstein "The Long-Term Effects of Divorce on Children" Journal of the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry 1991)

14. Seventy percent of long-term prison inmates grew up in broken homes. (Horn, Bush, "Fathers, Marriage and Welfare Reform)

Problems Relating to Peers

15. Children of divorce are four times more likely to report problems with peers and friends than children whose parents have kept their marriages intact. (Tysse, Burnett, "Moral Dilemmas of Early Adolescents of Divorced and Intact Families. Journal of Early Adolescence 1993)

16. Children of divorce, particularly boys, tend to be more aggressive toward others than those children whose parents did not divorce. (Emery, "Marriage, Divorce and Children's Adjustment, 1988)

Suicide Children and Divorce Statistics

17. People who come from broken homes are almost twice as likely to attempt suicide than those who do not come from broken homes. (Velez-Cohen, "Suicidal Behavior and Ideation in a Community Sample of Children" Journal of the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry 1988)

High School Drop Out Statistics

18. Children of divorced parents are roughly two times more likely to drop out of high school than their peers who benefit from living with parents who did not divorce. (McLanahan, Sandefur, "Growing Up With a Single Parent: What Hurts, What Helps" Harvard University Press 1994)

I can't stress how important it is to know all the facts before you get a divorce. Your child's life is in your hands. If you're seriously considering divorce and you haven't attempted to save your marriage, I've just given you 18 children and divorce statistics that should give you the motivation you need to not give up hope just yet.

I want to read out of Saint John 14th chapter and the 8th verse alone.

Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it will suffice us.

Maybe I'll read the next verse.

Jesus said unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet... thou knowest me not, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou... Shew us the Father?

I would like to take this text: Show Us The Father And It Will Sufficeth. In other words, it means "satisfies." "If you'll show me the Father, it will satisfy us."

E-22 Now, that's been the cry of the human heart through all ages, is to see God. Job of old cried out, "If I only..." in his distress, "If I only knew where He lived. If I could go knock on His door and speak to Him..." Every man has wanted to know God and to see God. Job wanted to see Him. Moses wanted to know Who that was in the burning bush. Then he said, "Show me Your glory." He wanted to see some manifestation to know that it was God. And all of us do that. We all long to see something that's real, something to prove that God is.

And it's to my humble way of thinking, that it pleases the Father to show Himself, to manifest Himself. He loves His children. How I like to tell my children something and make a requirement, and then see those children live right up to that; and I can show them something good.

E-23 How I tell my little boy, Joseph, "If you'll just be a good boy now, and mind mother, you know Saturday when I get back, I'm going to take you fishing."

And to see that little boy, his mother say, "He was just as obedient, Bill, as he could be this week."

I'm happy to go show that little boy, take him fishing. I like to show him that I want to be kind to him, because he's part of me. I want--I want him to be like I want to be, a Christian. And I love to manifest what I want him to be through myself.

And God wants to manifest Himself to His children. But He asks one requirement is all: if thou will believe. That's all He asks: gives His Word and asks if you will believe It.

E-6 I've got some children. When I go to get ice cream for them kids, I tell you; one says, "Bring me a vanilla."

Other one said, "Bring me a chocolate."

Other one said, "Bring me strawberry."

When I come back, I look like I got the rainbow, when I see all the different colors. But you know what? They're all my children. They're all eating ice cream. The taste doesn't matter. You know what I mean, don't you, brethren? The taste doesn't count. We're eating ice cream. We believe the same God, the same experience. And you know, after all, rainbow's a covenant. That's right.

So we have covenant in our hearts to be brethren, working together to the Kingdom of God, and to the glory of God. Long may you wave that banner of His glory, brethren. May God ever be with you. When the hours are dark and hard, I'll be praying for you, and you be praying for me: still seining, until we meet at the other side.

Why are homes with surrogate fathers at risk?

The authors of the 2009 study suggest that men who are not biologically related to their partners' children may not feel a connection to them. As a result, surrogate fathers may not feel a reason or obligation to provide financial or emotional support, unlike a biological father. Also, because surrogate fathers are typically in undefined parenting roles, they may be less able to enforce rules or convince children to obey them, and some surrogate fathers may resort to physical force or psychological control to demonstrate power over children.

What explains the increase in maltreatment in homes without a male?

Researchers explain that compared to families with two biological parents, families headed by single-mothers generally have fewer resources—less time and money to allocate to parenting. As a result, single mothers often experience higher levels of stress, which can lead to impatience, the use of physical control, and neglect.

Family structures are changing, and policies are responding

Census Bureau statistics demonstrate that the structure of the family is changing. In 2008, approximately 30% of all households with children were headed by a single parent (26% of these were headed by a single mother). This is up from 20% in 1980. Also, the number of births to unmarried women in the U.S. is at an all-time high.

In 1980, 18% of all births were to unmarried women; in 2008, 41% of all births were to unmarried women.
